The use of GMAP is an OPS call, not an ENVL call.

The ENVL views GMAP as force multiplier that can be brought to bear.

It is an OPS call whether they have the resources or need to activate the GMAP for ESF10 operations.

If the GMAP is used, ENVL will help with DQOs and screening levels.

Mikael – Here is the info on the GMAP (our asset that is similar to TAGA). If R6 will use it we can start rolling as early as today but more likely first thing in the am tomorrow. Additionally, the question I have on staffing the community liaison position is will you take someone that doesn't have the 24 hour field safety training? If not, they can take it but that will push back their departure time. Right now we are looking at sending 4-5 people. Is there an account code from FEMA for their TAs? Also, who can they coordinate with regarding lodging/travel logistics?

Thanks
Erica
